(Concluded)

A few moments before we started, I was interested to see this old man the head of a fierce and powerful tribe, call around him those of his people who were to attend us Their rude and coarse garments showed their poverty but back due, I believe or with scarcely an exception, had a gun in his hand At the voice of their leader their discordant clamors were hushed The aged chief took an elevated position on a rock and the men seated themselves in a circle in front of him on the rocks and sand standing but a few feet back of the enclosure formed by the Bedouins I was able to hear what he said without understanding its import I learned, however, from our interpreter, that he gave them advice as to their conduct, and certainly the propriety and earnestness of his gestures and the falling tear that shone in his eye, and the visible effect upon the men, showed that even the fierce chief of a rude Arab tribe felt something of the obligation to the father, as well as the leader and governor of his people

We left Arabah on Monday the 20th of April, retracing for a short time our steps around the head of this branch of the Red Sea, till we reached, in the mountains on its western side the great pass which is annually trodden by the caravans between Egypt and Mecca Turning into this pass, in which there are obvious traces of an old Roman road, we ascended for a long distance with mountain heights on each hand, and find that peculiar mountain scenery which I have already mentioned Arrived at the summit of this long and difficult ascent, we once more cast a look upon the waters, which once coasted with the navies and wealth of Solomon and upon the lofty mountains of Edom on the other side of them We then, without descending into valleys again as we naturally expected, passed over elevated plains of vast extent, of a hard and pebbly surface, and blackened by the sun, and I think we found no part of these great deserts more destitute of vegetation and of every form of life than this. In four days travel from Arabah, and at the distance of about ninety miles, we reached the village and fortress of Nickel

The country around the fortress of Nickel unable to supply with provisions even the little community here, is a wide sandy desolation not less barren than the country we had passed over So that both the fortress and the little village connected with it, draw their supplies from distant place, and chiefly from Suez and Cairo. A few artificial wells and fountains, however, are found here, which is a great convenience to the travelers and pilgrims that pass this way The fortress of Nickel is not far from the borders of the Pashalic of Egypt in the direction of Syria, and seems to have been established with the combined object of keeping the neighboring Arabs in awe of protecting and aiding the caravans between Egypt and Mecca and of indicating the fact of Egyptian authority, exercised in full power at no great distance from the lines of a distinct and rival dominion

There were sounds of music in the village and fortress on the night of our arrival there It was an hour of feasting, and of that rude joy, which in these regions accompanies the ceremonies of marriage I sat in my tent and heard it, at a little distance and was not sorry to know, that human sympathies may exist amid the desolations of nature, and that love has a place even in the sands of the desert.

We spent the Sabbath here and on the next morning resumed our march towards the shore of the Mediterranean At this place we ceased to be conveyed by the camels and Bedouins of Sheikh Hassan; and came under the protection and were conveyed by the men of another tribe

As we advanced from Nickel towards Gaza, we passed through a portion of the territory once occupied by the Amalekites,—an ancient and warlike people, whose power seems to have extended from the plains and valleys of Philistia to the mountains of Sinai Their fierce wars with the Israelites are known to the readers of the Bible Our course led us a little to the south of the ancient Beersheba which still retains its ancient name and whose wells and scattered ruins indicate its position, is situated upon the southern border of Palestine. It was at one time the residence of Abraham and Isaac Passing onward in a southwest direction, and going through what we supposed might be that portion of the Philistine territory which bears in the Scriptures the name of Gerar we reached in five days travel from Nickel the shores of the Mediterranean, and were lodged in the quarters of the quarantine of Gaza

In our approach to this city, and at the distance of about twenty miles we began to pass from the unbroken sterility of the desert to lands susceptible of cultivation The heart harmonizes with nature, and is gay or sad in correspondence with the joy or sadness of that which is without I cannot forget the delight I felt when we came to a small brook Grass and reeds grew upon its banks, and as it played with its pebbly channel its prattling music seemed to have a voice of social welcome in its sound We saw once more flocks of sheep and goats, and the playing children who watched them, and droves of camels going to the watering places, and husbandmen gathering in the barley from the fields Life, that had been buried in the sands, was again struggling upward into form and beauty Flowers, unknown at colder climates, sprung up by the way-side, and as I gazed upon them with continual delight, it seemed as if I had known nothing of their radiance before They seemed to my pleased imagination, to vindicate to themselves the principle of life, and to arise from the earth like sonnenous and social beings, desirous of expressing their joy. They revealed, in their pure and bright expression, a religious import Is it not true, that the glory of God is written on the leaf of the flowers? Or is it the state of the mind writing the inward beauty on the outward object, which makes it shine so brightly?

We are now in Gaza in quarantine And it is here that I am writing or rather finishing, this letter, which I had begun during our seven days stay at Arabah The detention here I suppose is necessary, or at least is deemed to be so I have no fault to find with our accommodations And the harmony of our little company, strengthened by piety and cheered in Syria as on the Nile and in the Desert by woman's presence has made every situation pleasant I can see from the windows of the rooms which we occupy the site of the old city of Gaza The ancient city situated at the distance of a mile and a half or two miles from the modern Gaza, was a place of no small note as far back as the time of Joshua and the Israelitish Judges Its position in the vicinity of the Mediterranean was favorable to its and commerce received it and gave it strength Its site is now covered by an immense pile of sand—so wide and deep that the traveller who seeks for some memorial of its former greatness, can scarcely find the fragment of a broken column. That lofty pile, which the winds and waves of ages have drifted together, and beneath which the city and its gates and temples are buried, is a sort of monumental pillar of that which is passed away and gone The pride of the Philistin states the city of Gaza at successive periods was the place of commerce, arts, battles, sieges It withstood for long time the fierce attacks of Alexander the Great, who found it at nothing in his way in his triumphant march from Egypt to Phenicia And at an earlier period it had a conquerin, in various ways, with Scripture History It was the gates of Gaza, which Sampson in his contest with this people took away at night and set upon a distant hill before Hebron It was here that he was destroyed And this is the scene, therefore, of one of the magnificent poems of Milton

I is thus, wherever I go, that past deeds and generations spring up at my feet As I am seated at my window and let my eye roam over these scenes—that eye which becomes also a window to my heart and lets in the flood lights of memory—I call to mind the names of the men of distant ages;—of the son of Manoah, the Hercules of the wild and heroic age of the Scriptures, who fought with Dagon and subdued him—of the Macedonian conqueror, the mighty but wayward child of a mysterious providence, who was led onward to the destruction of cities in fulfilment of the denunciations of the Hebrew prophets, and of the wonderful bard of the Isle of the Ocean, who was illuminated with a brighter light when he became blind and who, in his Sampson Agonistes, has poured forth a song of sorrow and of triumph, which matches the noblest melodies of Greek and Roman fame

The story of Sampson is one of the touching and instructive passages of biblical history varied and wonderful in its confounding aspects, and not unworthy of the sympathetic remembrances and the sublime song of the great English poet Strong in his earthly passions, strong in his love of God but vacillating from earth to heaven, he was an object which angels might look upon with pity,—and terrible in his inward conflicts. When he looked upon Dellah, he felt purgatorial when he remembered the prayers and faith of his father and mother, and of the ancient and great men of his people, his soul gained strength, and soared upward to celestial regions And it was thus, not firmly fixed to the Central Life, and rent asunder by attractions from different sources, he passed and repassed from heights to depths, from good to evil But God, who loved him closed his earthly sight, in order that the eye, which was closed and dark to earth, might be open and illuminated from heaven With light came strength, and the influx of strength into his soul gave strength to his physical nature His hour was come He was ready to die, because death, which is only a method of translation, is the gateway of the resurrection. But in that final conflict between the true and the false, between the perishable and the eternal, his arm grew mighty in God; he shook the strong foundations and pillars of falsehood and the idol and the temple crumbled in to dust

COAST SURVEY STATION.

NEAR PHILLIPS, MAINE, Nov. 16, 1853

SIR. I have the honor to inform the Department that having been apprized by George W Blunt, Esq of New York, of the supposed existence of a bank of forty fathoms about ninety miles east by compass from Boston Light, the Hydrographic party employed on the Nantucket shoals was instructed to search for it and determine its position

In accordance with those instructions, Lieutenant Commanding H S STELLWAGEN, United States Navy, Assistant in Coast Survey, in charge of that party, dispatched Lieutenant T B HUGER in the schooner George Steers one of the vessels of the party for that purpose The report of that officer is enclosed herewith, from which it will be seen that sounding of thirty six fathoms were had near the spot designated in latitude of 42° 47 N, and longitude 69° 18 W, where one hundred fathoms appear upon the charts. The surface of the spot giving these soundings is about three miles in extent north and south, and two east and west, with thirty-eight and forty fathoms around it The bank is probably Fippenies Bank, the true position of which is further to the eastward than is laid down in the charts A further examination will be made as soon as the season permits

I would respectfully request authority to publish this notice

Very respectfully, yours, &c,

A COMPENDIUM OF THE THEOLOGICAL AND SPIRITUAL WRITINGS OF EMANUEL SWEDENBORG: being a Systematic and Orderly Epitome of all his Religious Works, selected from more than thirty volumes, and embracing all his Fundamental Principles, with Copious Illustrations and Teachings. With an Appropriate Introduction prefaced by a Full Life of the Author; with a Brief View of all his Works on Science, Philosophy and Theology. Boston: Crosby & Nichols — 1853.

Such is the title of a large octavo volume of more than 700 pages, the publication of which, by one of the largest publishing firms in New England, marks an important era in regard to the writings of the distinguished Swedish Theosophist. Heretofore none but the lesser publishers, and those too, sympathising with the peculiar theological doctrines taught by Swedenborg, have ventured to risk the publication of his works. And, indeed, so small has been the demand for these works among the community generally, that very few booksellers have kept them on sale, and when such has been the case, so great has been the prejudice against these writings, that they have usually been stowed away on some obscure shelf or in a corner, where they have slumbered amid dust and spider webs. Almost the only means, hitherto, of bringing these remarkable works to the notice of the public, therefore, has been by the individual exertions of the few professed receivers of the doctrines they teach. Occasionally these have found individuals, either dissatisfied with the prevailing fashionable doctrines, or curious to learn something of what they have been wont to hear reported as dreamy and visionary speculations of a strong but disordered intellect, to whom they could loan their books, and sometimes even to sell them. And it is to this, or to some similar way, that most of the "receivers" are indebted for the first introduction to a knowledge of what they now regard as inestimable truths.

Gradually, however, but very slowly, has such a demand in this way, been created for the writings of Swedenborg, that the publication of them has now been undertaken by some of the principal publishing houses in Boston, New York, and other large cities in the United States. And these proscribed works now enter pretty extensively into the trade sales. In an especial manner, we are informed, this "Compendium" is having a "great run," and is likely to prove a successful speculation. It is not ushered into the world under the auspices of Swedenborgians, and intended for their use alone, but it has been compiled and published for the use of the great public, because, it was thought this public needed and demanded it, or something like it.

The Theological writings of Swedenborg are very voluminous and expensive to buy few. An individual, wishing to learn something of his peculiar views, is at a loss as to which of his thirty or forty volumes he should select for this purpose. But this Compendium is designed to remedy this inconvenience. For, although a person cannot from it get a thorough and complete knowledge of all the doctrines taught by Swedenborg, he may, owing to the fact that select portions treating of similar subjects are made from his different works and arranged in juxtaposition, obtain a very tolerably fair idea of the whole. Indeed, we are inclined to think, that a better and more correct idea of the doctrines of Swedenborg, can be gathered from this Compendium, than from another one book ever published. And as it is sold exceedingly cheap, we anticipate, it will have an extensive circulation, and that, from the reading and study of it, a more correct and unprejudiced estimate, than has yet been made, will be formed of the worth of those writings, that are now attracting the attention, and exciting the admiration of many of the learned in this and other countries.

This work may be obtained at Wm. Bartlett, Jr.'s bookstore, on East Market square.

☞ The Gardiner Transcript well says that the city of Portland is by no means the only portion of our State that is to reap any advantage from the railroads that meet there in a common centre, but their influence is to be felt and is already felt from one end of Maine to the other. A new era is dawning upon our good old State, and her people are waking up to a more just and adequate appreciation of her resources and their own destiny. And in this march of improvement and enterprise so recently begun, we look upon the establishment of steam communication with England direct, as no unimportant step. It is another and important link in the chain which is to bind the two countries together in mutual good will and friendship, and which must equally promote the interests of both.

☞ Our readers should remember that New Year's Day follows closely upon Christmas and that is a marked day in the Calendar, for good wishes and pleasant gifts. A fresh lot of rich and rare books may be found at the bookstore of E. F. Duren, among them some in elegant bindings, beautifully embellished and of great merit. His stock is worthy the examination of all those who would contribute to the pleasure of their friends on this the festive season and birth day of the year.

☞ The publishers of the Augusta Age will issue a thrice-weekly paper during the session of the Legislature. The publishers of the Kennebec Journal will do the same, and thus between the two, the people will be furnished with a daily record of the proceedings of the legislature. These papers are but $1.00 for the session, and large numbers should be taken and paid for.

☞ The editor of one of two rival newspapers in a village out West, boasted that he had just obtained a font of new type. To which the other retorted:—"Why, we procured ours long ago!"

☞ The Associate Alumni of Bangor High School will hold their grand Levee at the Bangor House on this evening, at 7½ o'clock with their ladies.

☞ The following list of cherries is recommended for cultivation in Maine: Kentish, May Duke, Belle de Choisy, Black Eagle, Downer's, Elton, and Downton.

It is only necessary for the people of Maine to produce an ample supply of the most delicious fruit, to understand what varieties best suit our climate, combining in the greatest degree the requisites of hardihood, vigor of growth, productiveness, and high quality, and to act efficiently in obtaining and growing such fruits, apples, pears, plums, &c.

☞ Last season several fruit growers, farmers and gardeners in this city expended about one hundred dollars in Improved Super phosphate of lime which was highly recommended as a cheap and efficient fertilizer, and no one of the number has been able to discover any special benefit arising from its use.

☞ The Flemish Beauty Pear, almost entirely grown on pear stock, combines more good qualities than any other known pear, and very handsome specimens have been grown in this city and vicinity. This pear does not take well on the quince.

☞ Joseph H. Carter proposes to establish a new paper at Washington, the first page of which he promises to devote to northern news, the second to southern news, the third to eastern news, and the fourth to western news.

☞ The remarks of the Irish Patriot and Orator, John Mitchell, touching the letter of Secretary Marcy, are severely criticised by many of the papers, while few undertake to approve or defend them.

The New York True Democrat says:

"Mr Mitchell has not yet been in our country one month, and a proper degree of modesty if not of gratitude, should have kept his tongue silent in respect to a government of which he knew so little, if we except its generosity and its hospitalities. It is just such weak, puerile, self complacent speeches as Mr John Mitchel has made, that is stirring up anew in this vicinity, the Native American feeling against the Irish. Have we not enough of this? Has Mr Mitchell no friends to instruct him as to the past, and caution him as to the future?"

ASSOCIATE ALUMNI OF THE BANGOR HIGH SCHOOL.—At a meeting of this Association holden last evening a new Constitution was adopted, and the following officers were elected under it for the ensuing year:

R. S. MORISON, President.
S. P. DINSMORE, Vice President.
G. H. STARRETT, Recording Secretary.
A. H. ROBERTS, Treasurer.
C. P. ROBERTS, Corresponding Secretary.
E. W. Fogg, T. J. Stewart, N. S. Harlow, F. W. Carr, W. T. Pierce, Jr., Board of Directors.—[Mercury.

A HARD TICKET.—Yesterday City Marshal Jones, of Augusta, Me., arrived in this city with a requisition for Edgar Mc Warren, alias Samuel M. Whelpley, charged with escaping from the Insane Hospital at Augusta, and the theft of a horse, carriage, harness and robe. His arrest here has previously been noticed by us. Whelpley is decidedly a hard case, who, without the termination of the "ley," belongs in Walcott, N. Y., served in the Mexican war, and was arrested some time ago for robbery at Harpswell, Me. Whelpley was taken with his plunder in a boat, heavily armed and fast asleep. He plead insanity, and got off by going to the Insane Hospital. The account of his subsequent escape, some weeks ago, and the cool letter to the Superintendent of the institution, have travelled all over the Union. He told the Augusta Marshal, yesterday, that he had no objection to returning with him provided he shouldn't be sent back to the Hospital. Marshal Jones assured him upon his honor, this time he should go to the State Prison.—Lowell Herald.

A son of Mr Gilmore, who resides on the Union Mills road, has been troubled for a long time with a disease in his face which prevented him for months from doing any kind of work, and at times it was thought he would die, for he could neither eat nor drink with it, and he had pined away to a mere skeleton. A few days ago Dr Walker being called in to examine and prescribe for it, opened the swelling and took out a Porcupine's quill about an inch and a half long, which had been in him over a year. The young man is now doing well.—Calais Advertiser.

☞ A Washington correspondent of the New York Herald says:—

I mentioned several weeks since, that serious charges were preferred against Gov. Gorman, of Minnesota, and that it was understood the President had determined not to send his nomination to the senate for confirmation unless the charges were disproved. It is now said that Governor Gorman has thus far, failed to do so, and that he will be immediately superseded.

SLAVERY.—In his recent address in New York, Hon John G. Palfrey, of Cambridge, alluded to the following movements which he said were schemes, for the spread of the slave power:—First the admission of New Mexico and Utah as slave States; second the division of California into two States, one or both of which to be a slave-holding State; third, the division of Texas into four new slave States; fourth, the organization of States out of the territory of the Cherokee and other Indian tribes; fifth, the territorial organization of Nebraska as a slave territory; sixth, the boundary quarrel with Mexico, seventh, the project of annexing the Mexican provinces of Chihuahua and Sonora; eighth, that of absorbing Yucatan; ninth, tenth, and eleventh, the probabilities of spreading the American slave holding power into Nicaragua, Cuba, and St Domingo. These will certainly, (continued the lecturer,) come to pass the prophecy of Mr Calhoun, foreshadowing the oligarchy which the slave power is to exercise in the American republic, unless there should, in the mean time, be discovered to be a Night.

POLICE JUDGE, HALLOWELL.—Mr Wales, having been elected County Commissioner for Kennebec, has resigned his place as Justice of the Police Court, Hallowell. To fill the vacancy, the Governor last week nominated Samuel K. Gilman, Esq., but being a Whig, the Democratic majority of the Council deemed it incumbent upon them to reject him, notwithstanding he had been unanimously recommended by the City Council of Hallowell.—Kennebec Journal.

The aeronaut, M. Arban, who made an ascent from Barcelona, Spain, more than two years ago, and had not since been heard of, and who was believed to have fallen into the sea and been drowned, has made his appearance again. An Alicant letter says that his balloon went over to Africa, and that he was seized and made a slave, and continued in that state for two years, when he made his escape.

The Cleveland Herald thus addresses old bachelors:

"If our maker thought it wrong for Adam to live single when there was not a woman on the earth, how criminally guilty are old bachelors, with the world full of pretty girls!"

If you wish to be happy, keep busy; idleness is harder work than plowing, a good deal. There is more fun in sweating an hour than in yawning a century.

Dates from San Francisco up to Dec 7th are received at New orleans via the Ramsay route through Mexico in the short period of eighteen days.

The non reception of the California mails of the 1st instant is accounted for by the fact that the mail steamship Winfield Scott, went ashore and was totally wrecked on the day she left San Francisco. Her passengers and treasure, amounting to about one million of dollars were saved, and returned to the former city on the sixth, whence they were again despatched for Panama on the following day in the steamer California.

NEW YORK, Dec 26

The steamship Pacific arrived at noon to day by which arrival we have later dates from the seat of war.

On the 30th of November, the Russian fleet under Admiral Machinoff, from Sebastapool with 21 sail appeared off the Turkish harbor of Sinope, when Vice Admiral Osmar Bey with fourteen ships, attacked the Russians, and an awful naval combat ensued.

The Turks fought like demons and 13 of their ships were blown up and sank only one escaping. Osmar Bey was taken prisoner.

Of the Russian fleet two large of battle-ships three frigates and two steamers were destroyed.—The battle lasted one hour with terrible carnage.

There was intense excitement in London and Paris on the reception of this news.

Gerrit Smith's Speech.

WASHINGTON, Dec 20.

Let the friends of freedom in the Union, and of union for freedom mark to day with a white stone, Gerrit Smith has not only spoken—but though only in brief outline, he has unfolded his whole doctrine of the higher law and universal liberty, and what is more, he has been listened to with earnest attention, and cordial respect, and has been answered with manly frankness, yet high toned courtesy. The whole scene was an omen that the era of angry strife between the Free and Slave States is closing, and that a new era of fraternal co operation in removing the only source of Disunion has opened.

Mr Smith's air and manner at once commanded the eyes and ears of the whole House. His deep voice filled the room, and the grace and dignity of his noble person seemed the symbol of magnanimity. As the speech will of course be reported in your columns, it is unnecessary here to sketch his argument. It will be seen that his declarations of principle were uncompromising his criticism terribly severe, his assertion of the claims of duty as impartial as if in the name of an apostle he had been warning his hearers of their responsibility to the heavenly Judge. But the calmness, and dispassionate tone with which he spoke, disarmed anger, and elevated his audience—even those whom his words most wounded—into a severe upper air of truth where personal jealousies sectional feuds and the meannesses of party politics were lost sight of and forgotten. All recognized in the speaker an honest, generous Christian gentleman, who strong in the consciousness of his own integrity, trusted in the honor of his fellow men.

And his confidence was well placed. As soon as he was seated Mr Preston of Kentucky replied in a speech of great directness and courtesy. Without denying or in any way cavilling at the broad principle of right asserted by Mr Smith, he took the ground of a common obligation resting upon all the people of the United States to respect the laws institutions and usages of the several States in entire good faith. All who swore to support the Constitution thereby testified their purpose and pledged their honor to observe its provisions unequivocally. What was remarkable in this speech of Mr Preston's was the admission identical with that lately made in the address of the Southern Agricultural convention, that Slavery is a transient stage of society, disciplinary in character and preparing the way for civilization. The speaker showed that, as all nations had in their industrial development passed up through servitude to free labor, so doubtless a time would come when the black race, raised, refined and educated, would emerge into freedom by an irresistible yet peaceful process. He hinted, as a hope cherished by himself, that the negroes would gravitate to the South more and more, and in due time, by mingling with the mixed races of Mexico and Central America, form a new State or nation, under free institutions. Mr Preston was heard with respectful interest by all the Anti Slavery men in the House, for they felt that they were listening to the frank utterance of sincere convictions by a high minded, thoughtful, true man.

May this brief debate prove an auspicious augury. How soon how very soon, might this great nation enter upon a course of policy—in which emancipation might be introduced by a COMBINED MOVEMENT of the Free and Slave-holding States—not only without violence, disturbance, injurious effect upon any class or interest, but with a new healthful strengthening influence felt throughout every department of the national commonwealth,—if only Southerners and Northerners would thus meet each other in a spirit at once frank and fraternal.

This Union is not to be sundered, yet Slavery is to be removed. Let our watchword henceforth be then, Union for Freedom, Freedom in Union—a Free Union forever.

10,000 Acres of Pine Land for Sale.

THE subscriber offers for sale 125 lots of valuable Pine Lands, situated on Flint River, Lapeer county Michigan

The lands were selected at an early day by careful and experienced lumbermen and are among the first locations made in the vicinity now so celebrated for the superior quality of its lumber The locations were made in 40 and 80 acre tracts, and mostly on the stream commanding the River for a distance of five miles

There are none of these lands situated over two miles from navigable water and all of them within three days run of the mouth of Saginaw River The timber upon them is of the choicest kind, growing large, straight and sound and will yield a very large share of clear soft oak pine besides a very large quantity of ship stuff, of the finest quality and largest size

These lands have been examined by several of the best surveyors in the State and the lowest estimate made of the amount of timber upon them is Hundred and Fifty Million feet

I consider this a very central location, and as the best lot of Pine Land ever offered for sale in the State, and in view of the failing interests in the eastern lumbering districts the rapidly increasing demand for pine lumber in the Western country, as also in the Eastern to offer with the large number of mills constructed and being constructed on the Saginaw River a ready supply of logs, satisfy me that the quarter presents to lumbermen an opportunity for investment seldom offered Terms—One fourth cash balance in 1 2 and 3 years

In addition to the above the subscriber offers for sale two of the best Mills on the Saginaw River, capable of turning out 5 000,000 feet of lumber annual

All of the above properties will be withdrawn from sale by the fifth of January next unless previously disposed of ☞Cement which has been proved to be of great strength will be found particularly useful in every family. The simple manner of the application is alone a recommendation The adhesive property which it contains is so wonderful that many things will rather break in a fresh place than where they have been mended with it The variety of purposes for which it may be used are so numerous that it would be difficult to recite them Its success in mending Glass China &c is extraordinary, no ordinary degree of heat affecting it, and as the joints are scarcely perceptible articles of this kind may be made useful for years, which otherwise would have been cast away

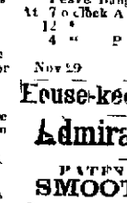
PATENT SELF HEATING SMOOTHING IRON!



MANY important improvements have been made since the beginning of the present century, relieving and facilitating the labor of men by machinery and other mechanical implements, but females have heretofore been nearly neglected until the introduction of the Patent Self Heating Smoothing Iron which will relieve them in a very great degree, from the excessive and fatiguing labor of ironing, besides being a great saving of time and expense. This from combines economy, convenience, saving of labor and despatch, one cents worth of fire charcoal supplies fuel for a whole days constant ironing. Hard wood coal from the stove will answer the same purpose. It can be used in any room at the open air. Hatters and Tailors' Irons are constructed upon the same principle and possess equal superiority.

THE GREATEST

MEDICAL DISCOVERY OF THE AGE!

DR KENNEDY of Roxbury has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures EVERY KIND OF HUMOR from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple—He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases and never failed except in two cases of both thunder humor. He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston

Two bottles are warranted to cure a running ulcer of twelve months

One, three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two or three bottles will clear the system of biles.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth and stomach.

Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst cases of scrofula.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humors in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

From two to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

One bottle will cure scald eruptions of the skin.

Two or three bottles warranted to cure the worst cases of ringworm.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate cases of rheumatism.

Three or four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.

Five to eight bottles will cure the very worst cases of scrofula.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above directions are taken.

Nothing looks so improbable to those who have never tried all the wonderful medicines of the day as that a common weed growing on the pasture and along old stone walls should cure every humor in the system, yet it is now a fact that it will cure a humor it has to start. There are no humbugs nor humbug about it, having some cases within years I peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effects of it in every case. It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts. I gave it to children a year old, to old people of sixty. I have seen your puny, scrawny looking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle.

For those who are subject to a sick headache once a week it will always cure it. It gives present relief in catarrh and dizziness. Some who have taken it have been costive for years and have been regulated by it. Where the body is sound it works quite easy. But where there is any derangement of the functions of nature it will cause very singular feelings but you must not be alarmed—they will wear off in from four days to a week. There is never a bad result from it—on the contrary when that feeling is gone you will feel yourself like a new person. I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that ever man listened to.

TESTIMONIALS

The following certificate from Dr John C Warren, of Boston was given 17 years since but will last forever

BOSTON, Jan 5 1853

Having had occasion to recommend persons afflicted with Hernia, have enabled such from the want of skilful workmen to procure suitable trusses to the peculiarities of their cases I have taken pleasure to inform myself of the competency of Mr J F Foster to supply this deficiency recommended by the death of Mr Hatch. After some months of observation of his work I am well satisfied that Mr Foster is well acquainted with the manufacture of these instruments, and is assiduous in accommodating to the variety of cases which occur. I feel called upon to recommend him to the profession and brethren, and the public as a person worthy of their little to supply their wants in regard to these important articles

JOHN C WARREN, M D

The undersigned take great pleasure in recommending to the favorable consideration of those who are unhappily afflicted with Hernia Mr James Fredrick Foster as a skilful and competent person in the manufacture and fitting of Trusses. We have employed him (some of us over twenty years) and therefore speak from personal knowledge of his abilities. His early apprenticeship and long experience in the business and the large number of individuals whom he has relieved in our city of cases requiring his aid, in our opinion, equal if not superior to any in the country. The father Dr Foster has been for upwards of twenty years during which period Mr Foster avail himself of the opportunity and made application of Trusses of great variety of cases with great success, some of which were of a very complicated and distressing character.

It is well known to all who have occasion to wear a Truss that to great excellence consists in its adaptation to the body at the same time relieving the patient. Any ordinary mechanic may make a Truss but none but a skilful practitioner can apply it in such a manner as effectually and independent of discomfort to the patient.

Our experience in business enables us that Mr Foster is thoroughly assisted by a knowledge of the medical profession. Dr J C Warren and other eminent surgeons with whom he has shown it as fully sustain the preceding testimonials.

DR. MORSE'S Invigorating Cordial,

Phenomenon in Medicine.

Health Restored & Life Lightened by

Dr. Morse's Invigorating Elixer, or Cordial.

For centuries Medical science has been ransacking the vegetable and mineral kingdoms in search of something that should restore the feeble or decaying energies of the nervous and muscular systems without the drawback of subsequent prostration, which disturbing stimulants and narcotics hitherto have entailed—That something has been found. It is a vegetable production brought from the sterile deserts of Arabia the Stony by the celebrated Professor M Morse, well known and distinguished member of the leading scientific societies of the Old world and equally distinguished as a physician a chemist and a traveller. The genius of this high concentrated and combined with other vegetable medicinal extracts are now producing results never before witnessed in this any other country. At first the prejudices attached to Prof MORSE'S INVIGORATING ELIXER OR CORDIAL were deemed fabulous. The public often declared could not believe the simple and sublime truths announced by the discoverer. But facts undeniable facts attested by witnesses of the highest class and character, are now triumphing over all doubts. Incredulity is overthrown, by a mass of testimony which is perfectly irresistable.

The ELIXER relieves in all cases the deplorable evils arising from a misuse or abuse of the various organs which make up the wonderful machine called man. It restores to full vigor every decaying function combined with that mysterious compound agency of matter and mind necessary to the reproduction of human life. Persons of feeble muscular frame or deficient in vital power are recommended as the only means of communicating that energy which is necessary to the proper enjoyment of all the natural appetites as well as the high mental attributes. His beneficial effects are not confined to either sex or to any age. The feeble girl the young wife the listless enervated youth the over worn man of business, the victim of nervous depression the aged and infirm, see of the same inestimable cordial. In the whole list of human ills there is not one for which it is not a specific. Thousands of instances can be adduced in which the delicate female and the young mother have found in it a comfortable safeguard against the terrible malady. There are many perhaps who have often trifled with their constitutions that they think they have by one touch of medicine. Let such try the Elixer. The Elixer deals with disease in a different way from other medicines. Let such try the Elixer. The Elixer deals with disease in a different way from other medicines. Let such try the Elixer. The Elixer deals with disease as best with reference to causes and will not only remove disease but

REBUILD THE BROKEN CONSTITUTION

The Elixer acts of the system leading to nervous diseases and the fatal nervous disease itself are so numerous that it would require a volume to enumerate the multitude of ills which a preparation is a specific. But it is now known that it is a specific for all nervous diseases viz neuralgia tic pain headache, tooth pain, palpitation, hysteria, palsy, paralysis, epileptic fits, convulsions, muscular debility, tremors, flatulence, a parking sensation in the flesh, numbness, tingling of the limbs, lowness of spirits, dyspepsia, costiveness, loss of appetite, dizziness, drowsiness, indigestion, disease of the liver, mental depression, weakness, fits, nervous fevers, night sweats, cold feet, nervous headache, tooth ache, nervous
